Date-Storm

Task: Brainstorm as many events, pieces of legislation, and/or people that connect to the primary source you're studying.

Instructions: Write the title of your primary source below. In the center of the matrix, record where and when it was created (e.g., Philadelphia, PA — July 4, 1776). Add connections based on when and where they occurred. Move LEFT for earlier events and RIGHT for later events. Move UP for increasingly distant connections within the nation; move DOWN for international connections, farther from the source location.
